DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-14 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

As per claims 1-14 and 20, specifically independent claims 1, 9 and 20, the methods represented by claims 1 and 9 and the computer-implemented method represented by claim 20 lack tangibility, in other words, they do not provide for a tangible output and therefore are directed towards non-statutory subject matter.

The methods are merely steps to achieve vehicle production orders of balanced assignments, however there is no tangible application of the results. The claims must be amended, commensurate with the specification, to provide the claims with a tangible output in order to rectify the outstanding 35 U.S.C. 101 rejection.

It is noted that claims 15-19 do not suffer from the same deficiencies because a system consisting of hardware is claimed in conjunction with a program performed on a computer for performing the steps contemplated by the methods of claims 1-14 and 20, and therefore claims 15-19 provide for a tangible system, per se.

Once again, the methods of claims 1, 9 and 20 merely represent steps of determining a specific type of data (e.g. vehicle production order for balanced assignments), but the claims do not provide for a step in which the data is used in a tangible way (e.g. tangible result of the determined data).

The Examiner apologizes for any confusion with regards to the suggested claim language mentioned in the Office Action mailed on 12/29/2005, and since the Examiner's suggestions did not, in fact, cure the outstanding issues with regards to 35 U.S.C. 101, this action is being made Non-Final as a courtesy to the Applicant.

Art Unit: 2121

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 15-19 are allowed over the prior art of record, and claims 1-14 and 20 would be allowed if rewritten to overcome the outstanding issue with regards to 35 U.S.C. 101, as mentioned above.

As previously mentioned in the Office Mailed on 12/29/2005, the prior art of record fails to teach a system and method for optimizing matching dealer orders of vehicles with a plurality of manufacturing plants, in combination with the other claimed features and or limitations as claimed.
